

About Ente Friuli nel Mondo

The Fogolar of Winnipeg is one of 140 fogolars in the world we are united by our umbrella organization called Friuli nel Mondo which provides us great support and connectivity.

L'Ente Friuli nel Mondo is a private non-profit organization founded in Udine June 20, 1953 and recognized regional interest by the Autonomous Region Friuli Venezia Giulia. The organization independently promotes connections with Friulians residing in Italy and in the world and operates both with its own initiatives and with the help of the member associations, generally constituted with the name of Fogolâr Furlan or Famee Furlane.. With its approximately 150 active associations, operating in offices also owned, and with over 20,000 members of all ages affiliated in every continent, the organization has an extraordinary relational heritage available to the entire regional and national system (adheres to the UNAIE, of which he is a founding member, and to FAIM).

The Friuli nel Mondo organization carries out an action of moral, cultural and material support, establishing every useful form of collaboration also with international institutions and Italian diplomatic authorities in order to maintain and promote the Friulian cultural identity, intercultural dialogue, solidarity between generations, vocational training, labor mobility, business development, international partnership. The organization is responsible for the editing of the bimonthly magazine Friuli nel Mondo , distributed worldwide since December 1952, manages the website www.friulinelmondo.com and the Facebook profile www.facebook.com/ente.friulinelmondo .

The organization has videoconferencing equipment in order to establish, with the help of new information technologies, ever closer and more immediate relationships with fellow countrymen residing around the world. The process of digital reconversion of the archives and of the entire editorial production is also oriented towards this objective, which has allowed the online publication on the website of the complete collection of the periodical magazine Friuli in the world starting from the first historic issue in November 1952, of a sound anthology of 250 radio broadcasts made for thirty years in collaboration with RAI and the photographic archive consisting of thousands of images from all over the world. BLECS - Pillole di friulano also fall into this area, the first video conversation guide in the Friulian language, BLECS - Clips of Friulian , in the Friulian / English version, and BLECS - Perlas de Friulano , in the Friulian / Spanish version, available online at www.friulinelmondo.com and at www.youtube.it/canaleblecs , and the production of film documentaries, the most important of which concerns the substantial financial and moral contribution provided by Friulians to the world for the reconstruction of the areas hit by the violent earthquake of 6 May 1976 .
